

Gina Raimundo

Message from the Governor:

"While there is so much work to be done, together we can bring about a Rhode Island renewal. From unique events like WaterFire, fantastic local restaurants and food and beverage producers, our incredible diversity and talented young people, we have everything we need to make it in Rhode Island. I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to showcase what we can build on for Rhode Island's comeback."

Mission of the Rhode Island Commodores:

Rhode Island Commodores are a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the purpose "to assist and stimulate economic enterprise within Rhode Island by direct action through education, economic promotion and hospitality."

Our Mission is to focus on the cooperation and promotion of resources within Rhode Island. We are a task force of ambassadors ensuring goodwill for Rhode Island while encouraging the general public's understanding of the economic and cultural benefits accruing from working, living and vacationing in Rhode Island. We strive to coordinate, arrange and conduct meetings, symposia, conferences and other similar activities for the exchange of information, ideas, and action relative to the purposes of the Commodores and benefits of the state.

Jon Duffy

Rhode Island Commodores, formally Commodore of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, is Rhode Island's highest honor, and an honorary title bestowed upon individuals by approval of the Governor of Rhode Island. It is not a military rank, requires no duties, and carries with it no pay or other compensation.

Jon Duffy Bio

The Governor of Rhode Island, currently Gina Raimondo, serves as commander-in-chief of the Commodores and the organization led by its admiral, currently Jon Duffy and its board of directors. Secretary of Commerce Stefan Pryor serves as Vice Admiral and as an ex-officio member of the Board of Governors.

Send a Message

315 Iron Horse Way
Providence, RI 02908

Phone: (401) 278-9121

Fax: (401) 273-8270

Have a question about the Rhode Island Commodores? For the fastest service, please call us directly at (401) 278-9121.

If your request isn't time sensitive, you can send us an email using the form. Please try to be as detailed as possible so we can provide you with the proper information when replying. All required fields are marked with an asterisk (*).

Message from the Governor:

"While there is so much work to be done, together we can bring about a Rhode Island renewal. From unique events like WaterFire, fantastic local restaurants and food and beverage producers, our incredible diversity and talented young people, we have everything we need to make it in Rhode Island. I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to showcase what we can build on for Rhode Island's comeback."

Gina Raimundo

Mission of the Rhode Island Commodores:

Rhode Island Commodores are a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the purpose "to assist and stimulate economic enterprise within Rhode Island by direct action through education, economic promotion and hospitality."

Our Mission is to focus on the cooperation and promotion of resources within Rhode Island. We are a task force of ambassadors ensuring goodwill for Rhode Island while encouraging the general public's understanding of the economic and cultural benefits accruing from working, living and vacationing in Rhode Island. We strive to coordinate, arrange and conduct meetings, symposia, conferences and other similar activities for the exchange of information, ideas, and action relative to the purposes of the Commodores and benefits of the state.

Jon Duffy

Rhode Island Commodores, formally Commodore of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, is Rhode Island's highest honor, and an honorary title bestowed upon individuals by approval of the Governor of Rhode Island. It is not a military rank, requires no duties, and carries with it no pay or other compensation.

Jon Duffy Bio

The Governor of Rhode Island, currently Gina Raimondo, serves as commander-in-chief of the Commodores and the organization led by its admiral, currently Jon Duffy and its board of directors. Secretary of Commerce Stefan Pryor serves as Vice Admiral and as an ex-officio member of the Board of Governors.

Have a question about the Rhode Island Commodores? For the fastest service, please call us directly at (401) 278-9121.

If your request isn't time sensitive, you can send us an email using the form. Please try to be as detailed as possible so we can provide you with the proper information when replying. All required fields are marked with an asterisk (*).

Send a Message

315 Iron Horse Way
Providence, RI 02908

Phone: (401) 278-9121

Fax: (401) 273-8270

RHODE ISLAND
COMMODORES

Message from the Governor:

"While there is so much work to be done, together we can bring about a Rhode Island renewal. From unique events like WaterFire, fantastic local restaurants and food and beverage producers, our incredible diversity and talented young people, we have everything we need to make it in Rhode Island. I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to showcase what we can build on for Rhode Island's comeback."

Gina Raimundo

Mission of the Rhode Island Commodores:

Rhode Island Commodores are a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the purpose "to assist and stimulate economic enterprise within Rhode Island by direct action through education, economic promotion and hospitality."

Our Mission is to focus on the cooperation and promotion of resources within Rhode Island. We are a task force of ambassadors ensuring goodwill for Rhode Island while encouraging the general public's understanding of the economic and cultural benefits accruing from working, living and vacationing in Rhode Island. We strive to coordinate, arrange and conduct meetings, symposia, conferences and other similar activities for the exchange of information, ideas, and action relative to the purposes of the Commodores and benefits of the state.

Jon Duffy

Rhode Island Commodores, formally Commodore of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, is Rhode Island's highest honor, and an honorary title bestowed upon individuals by approval of the Governor of Rhode Island. It is not a military rank, requires no duties, and carries with it no pay or other compensation.

Jon Duffy Bio

The Governor of Rhode Island, currently Gina Raimundo, serves as commander-in-chief of the Commodores and the organization led by its admiral, currently Jon Duffy and its board of directors. Secretary of Commerce Stefan Pryor serves as Vice Admiral and as an ex-officio member of the Board of Governors.

Have a question about the Rhode Island Commodores? For the fastest service, please call us directly at (401) 278-9121.

If your request isn't time sensitive, you can send us an email using the form. Please try to be as detailed as possible so we can provide you with the proper information when replying. All required fields are marked with an asterisk (*).

Send a Message

315 Iron Horse Way
Providence, RI 02908

Phone: (401) 278-9121

Fax: (401) 273-8270

RHODE ISLAND
COMMODORES

Gina Raimundo

Message from the Governor:

"While there is so much work to be done, together we can bring about a Rhode Island renewal. From unique events like Water-Fire, fantastic local restaurants and food and beverage producers, our incredible diversity and talented young people, we have everything we need to make it in Rhode Island. I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to showcase what we can build on for Rhode Island's comeback."

Mission of the Rhode Island Commodores:

Rhode Island Commodores are a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the purpose "to assist and stimulate economic enterprise within Rhode Island by direct action through education, economic promotion and hospitality."

Our Mission is to focus on the cooperation and promotion of resources within Rhode Island. We are a task force of ambassadors ensuring goodwill for Rhode Island while encouraging the general public's understanding of the economic and cultural benefits accruing from working, living and vacationing in Rhode Island. We strive to coordinate, arrange and conduct meetings, symposia, conferences and other similar activities for the exchange of information, ideas, and action relative to the purposes of the Commodores and benefits of the state.

Jon Duffy

Rhode Island Commodores, formally Commodore of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, is Rhode Island's highest honor, and an honorary title bestowed upon individuals by approval of the Governor of Rhode Island. It is not a military rank, requires no duties, and carries with it no pay or other compensation.

Jon Duffy Bio

The Governor of Rhode Island, currently Gina Raimundo, serves as commander-in-chief of the Commodores and the organization led by its admiral, currently Jon Duffy and its board of directors. Secretary of Commerce Stefan Pryor serves as Vice Admiral and as an ex-officio member of the Board of Governors.

Have a question about the Rhode Island Commodores? For the fastest service, please call us directly at (401) 278-9121.

If your request isn't time sensitive, you can send us an email using the form. Please try to be as detailed as possible so we can provide you with the proper information when replying. All required fields are marked with an asterisk (*).

Send a Message

315 Iron Horse Way
Providence, RI 02908

Phone: (401) 278-9121

Fax: (401) 273-8270

